

Christy Terry

Vice President Real Estate
Alaska Railroad Corporation

Christy Terry joined the Alaska Railroad Corporation in 2010 as the Seward Operations Manager and a few years later became the Seward Port Manager until 2022 when she relocated to corporate headquarters for the position of External Affairs Director. She began her tenure as Vice President of Real Estate August 1, 2023. Prior to ARRC, she spent a decade working for the City of Seward performing long and short-range planning, permitting, and development culminating with her tenure as Seward's Community Development Director.

Terry's public service includes three terms as an elected official, most recently as Seward's mayor until October 2022. She's provided leadership on boards including the Alaska SeaLife Center, Seward Chamber and Seward Port & Commerce. Terry now serves on the board of the Resource Development Council, Alaska State Chamber and the Anchorage Downtown Partnership. Her extensive contributions were recognized in 2021, when named Business Person of the Year by the Seward Chamber.

Terry lives in Eagle River, Alaska, with her husband and their youngest of 6 children. Since moving to Alaska to attend the University of Alaska, Fairbanks in 1991, she continues to enjoy the outdoors around the State visiting their cabin in Sterling and taking their boat out of Seward and Whittier.
